

Two sides of a coin

- One side - strong business case
- Other side - managing change
- In order to perform change management you will need a case that the change is built upon
  - Long term goals, vision,
  - Identified benefits of the change
  - Activities that leads to the change

The context of things

Portfolio management in a context

